LEADERSHIP FRAMEWORK

Understanding Self

Justice & Ethics

Strategy & Reasoning

Building & Maintaining Relationships

Executing Change

Growth
Efficacy
Authenticity

There is no beginning or end point of leadership development, but rather it is a lifelong iterative process of change. The Leadership Framework illustrates this idea visually by positioning the concepts as interlocking circles. The intersections of the circles give us an opportunity to explore how leadership concepts are inextricably linked and what leadership development may look like in multiple contexts. The very center of the diagram represents our aspirations for student leadership development: authenticity, continual growth and development, and increased agency and leadership efficacy.

Questions for Reflection

x How can I continue to grow in my understanding of self? How does my understanding of myself inform the way I engage in leadership?

- o What are my strengths? How can I continue to learn about and develop my strengths?
- o What are my values? Where do they show up in my actions? Where are they not present?
- o What is my leadership style? How does my leadership style help or hinder in groups?
- o What are my social identities? How do these inform my leadership? How might other peopl